Farhang Foundation and The Craft & Folk Art Museum (CAFAM) announce the third biennial international juried exhibition of contemporary photography and video works relating to Iranian culture and heritage. The exhibition is an opportunity to expose and feature emerging photographers and media artists from around the world. Approximately 40 selected photographs and videos will be displayed in a group exhibition to take place at the Craft & Folk Art Museum and at the University of California, Irvine's Viewpoint Gallery.

This exhibition is a platform to facilitate the identification and development of emerging artists for the community at large. During the exhibition, Farhang Foundation and The Craft & Folk Art Museum will develop special programs such as musical performances, talks, and other artistic events to provide visitors with more understanding of Iranian culture and heritage.
